Home & Gossip.

Little Local Links in the Town's Chain of History.

QU'APPELLE.

—The frequent heavy rains are filling up the sloughs.

—There is a large area being prepared here for crop next year.

—The refreshing showers continue and the heart of the farmer is glad.

—The officers of Qu'Appelle Council, R. T. of T., will be installed on Monday evening next.

—The owners of the cattle still running at large in town will do well to be warned to corral them at night.

—Rev. A. Andrews will return in time to preach morning and evening in the Methodist church on Sunday next.

—Mr. G. B. Murphy, whose homestead adjoins the town on the southwest, has rye growing upwards of four feet high.

—Mr. John B. Davis, of McLean, measured some of his wheat on Monday last which was thirty-two inches in length.

—Mr. W. H. Newlands, barrister, and Mr. H. Walters, of the firm of Walters & Baker, merchants, Prince Albert, are in town on a trip east.

—Mr. G. S. Davidson, M.T.L., went up to Regina yesterday to be present at the swearing in of the new Lieut.-Governor, His Honor Joseph Royal.

—The public school will be given a holiday on Thursday, the 12th inst., in order to give the children an opportunity of attending the picnic at Squirrel Hills Springs or Deep Lake.

—Rev. A. J. Belt, of Harrison, Ont., is on a visit to Fort Qu'Appelle and is in charge of the Anglican church work there. He came about the first of June and will continue here till about the end of the present month.

—The Canada Northwest Land Co. and the Townsite Trustees have appealed to Judge Richardson against the assessment of their lands by this municipality. It looks as if these corporations intended to make a big fight before they are compelled to pay taxes. Right is on the side of the people and we hope that they will win.

—Some of our citizens went to the Fort on Saturday last to attend the celebration of Dominion Day. Although there was not a large turn out of visitors from a distance the day passed off very pleasantly. The arrangements for carrying out the program were very complete, and the committee of management are to be congratulated on the successful results attending their efforts.

—We are pleased to be able to state that Mr. A. C. Paterson has been appointed Inspector of Weights and Measures for the District of Assiniboia, the appointment to date from July 1st. Mr. Paterson's numerous friends will be gratified to hear of his good luck, well knowing the duties of the office will be well and faithfully performed. Mr. Paterson was one of the pioneers of this locality, settling here six years ago, and has been identified with the growth of our town from its first inception.

—The Methodist Sunday School will attend the picnic at Squirrel Hills Springs on Thursday next, the 12th inst. The children of other schools are invited to accompany them. A sufficient number of rigs will be procured to provide ample accommodation for all. Children are requested to meet at the church at 8:30 o'clock, and all who can be invited to join in the procession which will be formed. Parents are requested to provide their children with sufficient in their baskets for luncheon at noon at 17 o'clock. Tables will be prepared for the occasion. A very enjoyable day was spent last year, and as the preparations are more complete this year a grand success is anticipated.

—The work on the Wood Mountain trail has been completed. The settlers along the trail petitioned for a grant, and the Qu'Appelle Board of Trade recommended it. The sum of $300 was granted to the order of the Board which appointed Councillors Murphy and Cates to expend it. Mr. Murphy had the trail cleared and plowed through Ward 4, with the exception of half a mile which will be completed by statute labor. Mr. Cates continued the work through Ward 7, making a fill in one coulee which answers the double purpose of a roadway and a dam. The roadway was also graded up two feet high across Long Lake valley. Messrs. Murphy and Cates deserve credit for pressing the need of the work upon the Board of Trade and for the energetic manner in which the work on the trail has been carried through.

—A cricket match will be played here on Friday, the 13th inst., between the Grenfell and Qu'Appelle clubs.

—Mr. Jas. Carson is hiring teams to work on the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway. He will leave Wolsley for the work at Langenburg on Saturday. See advt.

—The executive committee of the Diocese of Qu'Appelle met on Tuesday of last week, and after the transaction of other business decided upon presenting His Lordship the Bishop of the Diocese, with a pastoral staff on his return from England.

—The latest election news from the north reports the election of Capt. Hoey for Kinistino, and that Plaxton and Betts are still ahead and likely to be elected for Prince Albert. Mr. Fisher's election for Batoche is protested by Mr. Mitchell, his opponent, who discovered that Fisher had agreed to pay Nolan $150 to retire in his favor.

—At the Leland: D. W. Bole, S. Paul, J. F. McLellan, C. Constantine, Insp. N.W.M.P., Regina; C. P. Church, Miss M. Rogers, Winnipeg; D. H. McDonald, F. Donaldson, C. Smith, W. E. Read, Fort Qu'Appelle; R. S. McKenzie, Duck Lake; Mrs. R. S. McKenzie, Master McKenzie, Miss Leslie, Ottawa; H. J. Nesbit and wife, Mrs. Elliott, and servant, J. Hart and sister, Toronto; J. T. Nesbit, H. L. Osler, Hamilton.

—At the Queen's: W. H. Newlands, H. Walters, J. Kirkness, Prince Albert; J. Gooderham, Touchwood; J. A. C. Blackwood, wife and family, Mrs. J. W. Wright, Blackwood; Thos. Lutton, Wallaceburg, Ont.; J. Haken, Norwich, Ont.; J. W. Smith, C. Willoughby, H. Gibb, Regina; J. E. Petrie, Tregreva; Rev. J. Halliday, J. Dunn, Wolsley; J. B. Campbell, J. Jamb, Winnipeg; J. TWO PIC-NICS.

About a month ago a committee was appointed to arrange for the holding of a picnic at Squirrel Hills Springs on the 12th inst. At first there was a slight difference of opinion in reference to the propriety of having a dance as one of the attractions. It was agreed, however, not to have dancing. The day of South Qu'Appelle election, however, some difference of opinion was again created, and a portion of the committee broke off and decided to hold a picnic at Deep Lake on the same day. The original picnic having been decided to be held at the Springs and it being widely advertised, it was determined by those who favored it to go on and hold the picnic as at first arranged for, it being too late to make any change. The portion of the committee who were dissatisfied had the most of the summer before them and could have chosen any other day and held their picnic where they choose and in a way to suit themselves, but no, it looked as if they were determined to break up the picnic to be held at the Springs. The cause of the dissension among the settlers at the Hills appears to be a result of the sectional feeling engendered by the late election, and perhaps also from a difference in religious creed. Be that as it may the two picnics are to be held on the same day.

The Squirrel Hills committee advertise that they will have the grounds carefully prepared to entertain all who will honor them by their presence. The program will comprise base ball playing, croquet, a tug of war between two selected teams, swinging and other amusements. There will also be a stand erected for a number of public speakers who are expected to deliver addresses, which will be interspersed with singing, etc. There will be no expense to attend, each family providing their own baskets. This will be The Picnic of the season and all are cordially invited. The Deep Lake program is advertised to consist of boating on the lakes, swinging, ball playing, croquet, lawn tennis, cricket match, tug of war between country and Indian Head teams, and a grand platform will be erected for those wishing the enjoyments of dancing. There will be some prominent speeches delivered by noted speakers. A stand will be on the grounds which will furnish refreshments at moderate rates. The picnic will be held in the usual manner by parties furnishing their own baskets. Come one! Come all!

PERSONAL AND LITERARY.

—Patti wore $300,000 worth of diamonds in "Traviata" when she appeared in London recently.

—London supports an eight-page penny monthly, the sole contents of selected poems.

—Governor Adams, of Nevada, is "a natural faster," sometimes going a week without food. —Chicago Herald.

—An Icelandic illustrated monthly is to be published at Copenhagen, under the editorial direction of Bjornstjerne Bjornson.

—Mme. Adam is the name of the editress of the Paris Nouvelles Revue, but she claims that she is only a granddaughter and not the original. —Philadelpia Call.

—The journalists of Boston united recently in sending a congratulatory address to Colonel Charles G. Greene, on his eightieth birthday. He edited the Post for nearly half a century.

—James E. Stewart, a popular song writer, and author of "Jennie, the Flower of Kildare," died the other day in the workhouse at Cincinnati after a prolonged spree. —Cincinnati Times.

—Aly Fairly Lillian is the name of Bayard Taylor's daughter, who, according to her friends, has developed such extraordinary artistic abilities that American painters generally will need to take up kalsmining to get a living. —N. Y. Herald.

—Mrs. Paul Ferrin, of Boston, celebrated her ninety-fifth birthday recently, in the same house she entered as a bride seventy-three years ago. She has not been absent from the house in all these years for more than a week at a time. —Boston Journal.

—An old man named Sampler, who was a member in General Jackson's army at the battle of New Orleans, is still living near that city, aged ninety-four years. He still possesses the instrument he played on during the battle, and plays the same pieces he played then. —Philadelphia Press.

—Miss Nellie Arthur, the President's daughter, went to the top of the Washington monument the other day, and set one of the stones in position with her little hands. She is the second child who has assisted the work. President Hayes' little daughter having aided her mother to the enormous labor. —Washington Post.

—Rev. Dr. Walker, Bishop of Dakota, is a man wherever he goes. Recently he preached at Wahpeton, D. T., and as he left the church saw a crowd of men waiting in front of a saloon for two men to fight. He crossed the street, broke through the ring, seized the pugilists, and dispersed the crowd. —Chicago Inter Ocean.

Some Penalties of Wealth.

Probably nobody will ever believe sincerely that it is not better to be rich than poor; and certainly it is best for civilization that the difficulty of reaching that belief is practically insuperable. From the foundation of Christianity to the present day, to go no further back, men have sought riches with all their energies, and in the majority of cases have enjoyed them when found; and though writers, who are imaginative people, are seldom practical, have often pretended that decent poverty is better than wealth, as a rule they did not believe these assertions themselves, and certainly the world has refused to accept them. A frank statement of the average creed on the subject would unquestionably involve the admission that wealth is better than most other things; that while it is proper theoretically to deprecate an intense desire for it, most people make it their Alpha and Omega; that as regards the current talk about its burdens, nearly everybody is willing to assume them at a moment's notice. The world, in short, loves money, appreciates it, seeks it, pays respect to it. Yet, when all this is fully recognized, the fact remains that wealth sometimes has its penalties.

Here, for instance, is Mr. Garrison, who, to everybody's astonishment, has just made an assignment. So far as can be ascertained, the fundamental cause of this action is the fact that the old gentleman's money has become stronger than he is, and has literally overwhelmed him. Age and infirmity incapacitated him from attending daily to his many investments. But in these days of rapid change, constant vigilance is the price of financial stability. The Commodore could not give the necessary attention to his affairs, and the result is that everything has got into confusion. Take other cases: those of men who have the largest fortunes in the country or the world. They are all necessarily hard workers. Their wealth constrains them to ceaseless supervision and watchfulness. Do less with some there is a pleasurable excitement about this, but at all events there are penalties which can not be evaded, and which attach to great fortunes. There is, in fact, not much exaggeration in the saying that in many of such cases the money owns the men rather than the men the money.

Perhaps these drawbacks are introduced for the express purpose of consoling the masses to whom great wealth has been denied. They can at least try to believe that the cares of the rich exceed their pleasures; and once in awhile there occurs an event which seems to justify the adage that "all is not gold that glitters," and which shows that wisdom lay in the prayer of Agur, when he said: "Give me neither poverty nor riches; for it is after all in the happy mean between the two extremes that the most satisfactory conditions are found, and that mean fortunately exists in greater proportion among the American people than anywhere else in the world. —N. Y. Tribune.

Too Many Farm Implements.

In the great Northwest, as hitherto in Kansas and Nebraska, the reckless purchase of farm machinery, and the failure to properly take care of it, is frequently noted. The new comer, because he can buy his reaper any other machines on credit, purchases freely with the confident expectation that good crops will enable him to discharge his obligations; but if the crops are not so good, and he is unable to sell as much as he expected, he frequently gets in a close spot financially. Perhaps he has no building beyond a stable for his horses. Boards are expensive. He leaves his machinery in an open lot, with no cover, exposed to all the changing weather. It often results that he can not pay for his machinery, and, furthermore, it is much damaged sooner or later. Do not go to the Western prairies to farm, unless you have enough money to pay for some machinery, and enough to construct a proper shelter for it, after the season is over. It is an oft recurring and painful sight, as one rides over the prairie, to see these farm implements lying around loose in every direction. —American Agriculturalist.
